Truman Faces Reversal On Size Of Army

House Committee To Include Limit For Armed Forces

By RAYMOND WILCOVE
(U. S. Staff Correspondent)

WASHINGTON, March 13.—President Truman faces a reversal today in the House Armed Services committee, which is polishing up its version of the draft bill to include a limitation on the strength of the armed forces.

The House group is expected to override presidential and Defense department objections to a military manpower ceiling, even though Mr. Truman telephoned legislative leaders Monday to express "deep concern" over limitation. The committee ceiling is expected to be four million men and women.

The Senate adopted a similar provision when it approved Friday its own draft bill reducing the draft age to 18, extending the term of military service from 21 to 24 months, and providing for a permanent system of universal military training.

Two Strong Red Centers Taken In Day's Advance

U.N. Forces Drive Much Nearer To 38th Parallel Border

By LEE FERRERO
(U. S. War Correspondent)

TOKYO, March 13.—American troops overran two Red strong points and stabbed to within 23 miles of Korea's 38th Parallel today in a non-stop pursuit of enemy forces fleeing along the whole 75-mile central front.

The east-central road hubs of Changpyong and Yudong fell before the United Nations northward drive which also shot armor-tipped spearheads to points only four miles from the enemy's defensive keystone of Hongchon.

The allied avalanche thundered up to the crust of a new 19-mile-wide Chinese line in mid-Korea, anchored on Hongchon, as the communists reeled backward everywhere except in the Seoul vicinity on the west front.

Many Enemy Casualties
A night communique issued by U. S. Eighth Army field headquarters listed an additional 3,200 Red casualties inflicted by U. N. ground forces alone Tuesday and airmen claimed another 450 for a day's total of 3,650. This raised to more than 38,000 the total of Chinese and North Korean troops knocked out in the seven days since the U. N. forces renewed their big push toward parallel 38, South Korea's artificial northern border. More than 53,000 Reds have been knocked out in the first 13 days of March.

The Eighth Army's latest war bulletin said the communist in-

Plans To Call For Probe Of Ethics In Government

By CHARLES B. SEIB
(U. S. Staff Correspondent)

WASHINGTON, March 13.—Senate "influence" probe Chairman Fulbright (D) Ark., disclosed today that he will call for an all-out investigation of ethics in government.

Fulbright told newsmen that he is working on a senate speech that will outline the results of his year and one-half examination of pressure, politics and pull in the reconstruction finance corporation.

The inquiry culminated in the current sensational hearings on "influence" in the granting of government loans, with a cast of characters which included Donald Dawson, a top presidential aide; Merl Young, husband of a White House secretary; and Joseph Rosenbaum, a Washington attorney and Young's benefactor.

Hearings In Recess

Fulbright's hearings are in recess today, but a federal grand

Large scale time spreading work is in progress in various sections of the county. Whereas the work was formerly done laboriously by the farmers, now a large truck comes in heavily loaded and does the work in a short time as it moves back and forth over the fields.

Crews of highway workers are engaged on several city streets today in trying to smooth out the surfaces of the streets which are on the highway system maintained by the state. The city will be responsible for work on streets not on the highway system. Crews are still operating in the county.

Several motorists have been noted flashing 1951 state auto tags despite the fact that legal use of them is not permitted until Thursday. The day will bring a first for motorists in use of the new tags, but will be a last for income tax payers, who must have their returns filed by midnight of that day or be subject to a penalty.

Workmen dismantling an old house on Pearson street discovered on Monday under a portion of the old home a cistern perhaps 30 or 40 feet deep. None of the old time residents in the district knew that it existed. It was quickly filled in before any child could fall into it.

Thus far, March which almost half-way through has remained as it entered, a meek lamb with very little objectionable weather so far. Residents are hoping that the weather will remain on its good behavior for the rest of the month. If the proverb holds true, it should make its departure as a roaring lion.

Power Company Pays $45,000 For Former Central Church Site

Officials of the Central Presbyterian church received a check for $45,000 Monday afternoon, representing the Pennsylvania Power company's purchase price for the former site of the Central church on the Public Square.

Attorney Leroy Donaldson, secretary of the trustees, representing the church, received the check from Power company officials at a meeting which took place Monday consummating the sale of the church property in the downtown section. The deed for the property will be recorded at the Court House at once and the transaction will complete the sale.

MAY CALL STRIKE

LOS ANGELES, March 13.—(INS)—Los Angeles area members of the AFL Musicians Union voted last night to authorize their International officers to call a strike against radio and television stations tomorrow.

Local President John T. Groen made the announcement following a special meeting which he said was attended by 850 union members. Some 400 members of the local radio and television work. New York members of the union announced previously they will strike there tomorrow to enforce demands for higher wages.

Senate Debates Admission Of Nazis, Fascists

WASHINGTON, March 13.—Admission to the United States of former nazis, fascists and possibly present citizens of communist countries will be argued hotly today on the senate floor.

The senate opens debate on a bill to clarify interpretation of the McCarran anti-subversive act so as to ease entry restrictions for aliens once forced into nazi or fascist organizations.

In addition to controversy on the nazis and fascist restrictions, a brisk fight is expected over proposals of Sens. Lehman (D) N. Y. and Humphrey (D) Minn., to open the doors also to persons from Communist party members.

The debate will be the first on the controversial anti-subversive act since its passage over a vigorous presidential veto last fall.

The bill before the senate technically is an amendment to the immigration law of 1918—a procedure adopted by the senate judiciary committee to forestall a floor attempt to repeal the anti-subversive act.

Heavy Snow Is Reported In Large Midwest Area

CHICAGO, March 13.—(INS)—A blanket of snow spread by strong north-east winds covered the center and north-central portions of the nation today—just eight days before spring.

The snow, which extended as far south as Arkansas and the northern sections of Mississippi and Alabama, is expected to continue until tomorrow.

States hit worst by the storm are Iowa and Minnesota. Numerous schools in the Hawkeye state were closed and transportation was crippled. The entire state was blanketed with an average snowfall of 10 inches and Iowa City is mired in its deepest snow since 1895—23 inches.

Two Feet In Depth
Biggest snow depth was recorded in Spencer, Ia.—24 inches.

A ten-inch snowfall in Minnesota gave the state its greatest winter snow total since 1947, when 84.9 inches fell. Over 70 inches already have fallen this winter over the Twin Cities. Minneapolis reported a snow depth of 22 inches.

Driving throughout the mid-west was reported extremely hazardous. In most areas light rain was falling with the snow.

Forecasters predicted falling snow today and tonight for Illinois, Indiana, Wisconsin, Iowa, Michigan, North Dakota and Minnesota. Most Illinois cities were hit by snowfalls of ten inches. Terre Haute, Ind., had three inches and Bowling Green, Ky., reported one inch.

Snow Falls In Much Of South

ATLANTA, March 13.—(INS)—The bright colors of flowers and fruit tree blossoms, brought out by spring-like weather, were hidden under the whiteness of snow in much of the south today.

Snow fell as far south as Chickasaw, Miss., and came down heavily in Tennessee and Arkansas.

Traffic was slowed in central Tennessee, where Nashville reported six inches of snow by mid-morning.

Snow was expected to continue to fall in northern Alabama and north Georgia through the day. The Carolinas and Virginia were expecting snow in some sections today or tonight.

Agriculture leaders said there is no major threat as yet to the Georgia peach crop, which blossomed in the central section of the state several weeks ago. Low forecasts for the area tonight range from 28 to 32 degrees.

Work Is Resumed At Legion Home

Work was resumed at the new Legion Home auditorium Monday morning, when structural steel workers arrived on the scene and started erecting the steel superstructure for the building.

Good progress was made yesterday, and with the steel in place, work will progress rapidly to completion, the contractor promises.

The foundation was put in place late last summer, but the work was halted when the contractor was unable to get delivery on the steel. The building is being erected by the Perry S. Gaston Post, American Legion, at a cost of around $50,000.

Revival Series Bringing Many Visitors Here

Services Continue Through Week At Cathedral Building

Dr. Hyman J. Appelman of Kansas City, Mo., widely known evangelist who has been speaking for the past 15 days to large audiences in the Cathedral auditorium, continues his revival addresses this evening at 7:45 o'clock in the North Hill auditorium.

Tonight Dr. Appelman has chosen to speak on the subject "Three Exceeding Things: God On Tip-toe". The interesting evening service will open with an audience participation song service led by Rev. John Troy of Winona Lake, Ind. The program will feature Jerry Renkenberger at the organ and Rev. Charles Bergerson at the piano.

The Eureka Jubilee Singers of Chicago, who have been thrilling the vast audiences night after night with their presentation of old favorite Negro Spirituals, will again be singing several of their numbers with which they have endeared themselves to the hearts of the members of the audience.

Volunteer Choir
The volunteer choir of near 200 voices which has augmented greatly the musical program each night of the city-wide revival, will be heard in a special number during the opening song service. Rev. George Jones, general chairman, will preside over the meeting.

New Type Of Bomb In Use

Radio-Controlled Bomb Being Used In Korea By U.S. Forces

TOKYO, March 13.—(INS)—It's called "Tarzan".

It weighs six tons. And the Communists in Korea probably wish it had never happened.

The "it" is a new type of bomb which the U. S. Far East Air Forces disclosed today it is using in Korea to knock out enemy bridges and other massive targets. The 12,000-pound explosive giant is controlled by radio as it falls upon its assigned objective.

"Tarzan" measures 27 feet long. FEAF headquarters in Tokyo said the devastating bomb has been in limited use against targets in Korea since August 19, 1950.

It has destroyed such major installations as the steel and concrete Taedong bridge at the North Korean Red capital of Pyongyang, the big Kanggye span and other objectives.

Township To Send Seventh Graders To City

Neshannock Township To Send More Pupils To City Junior High

Seventh grade pupils of Neshannock township will attend George Washington junior high school during the 1951-52 school year, it was decided by the township school directors at a special meeting at the Walmo school Monday evening.

The move to send the additional pupils into the New Castle school system was brought about because of the over crowded conditions in the township schools. Approximately 63 seventh grade pupils will be affected by the move.

Eighth grade pupils were sent to George Washington this year for the first time because of crowded conditions and now only the first six grades will be handled in the township.

Plan Addition
Under the planned setup for next fall, 11 rooms at Walmo and four at Glen-Moore will be used, with no double grades. Seventeen teachers—the same number as this year—will be needed.

At the same time the board discussed plans for the addition of two rooms to the school at Walmo. Means of meeting the increased cost of sending the additional pupils into the city schools will be decided at the annual budget meeting of the board next month.

Office of Price Administration officials said the regulations probably would be made public next Monday.

Let the air bring hints of spring and warming sunshine, let the birds return and snow drops show their shoots, my friend begins to talk of fruits and gardens, of greens and sprouts and radishes and roots.

He quits his winter griping on the weather, he scans the catalogue for fancy seeds, he buys himself a hoe and rake and weeder, and talks about next winter's table needs. The game of golf is foreign to his nature, a garden is his proper spot to play, he eats and sleeps and dreams of raising cabbage, the weather's just at 45 today.

Two Strong Red Centers Taken

vaders were "still withdrawing along the entire front," which stretches 75 miles east from the U. N. Han river bridgehead east of Seoul across central Korea's mountains.

Met Little Enemy Contact

During Tuesday's operations, the communists added, the allied columns met "little or no enemy contact."

International News Service war correspondent Frank Coniff reported in a Tuesday night dispatch from the 10th corp's east-central front that U. S. Second division troops captured Yudong, 11 miles northwest of allied-held Honsong.

The key point, commanding a mountain pass, was successfully stormed by the tank-paced GI's "in the face of mortar, automatic weapons and small arms fire" after the Americans smashed a battalion-guarded Red road block south of Yudong, Coniff related.

The enemy is retreating elsewhere," the correspondent reported from the east-central front.

Yudong fell a few hours after American Seventh division troops farther east captured the vital road center of Changpyong, 24 miles below parallel 38.

Pounds Toward Honsong

To the west, a British unit pounded to within four miles south of the Red mountain bastion of Honsong while U. S. First Cavalry spearheads sliced up to the bank of the strategic Honsong river, 23 miles south of the parallel.

The war's heaviest air attacks provided a constant cover for the U. N. ground advance and, in turn, provoked the war's strongest enemy aerial counter-action.

The U. S. Fifth Air Force announced Tuesday night it had put 750 combat sorties into the Korean skies during the day following a record day for the allied tactical air arm Monday.

Headquarters of U. S. Far East Air Forces announced that some 990 sorties were mounted over Korea Monday as American jet planes engaged 46 Russian-type Mig-15 jet fighters in three aerial encounters.

At least six of the communist jets were listed as crippled and two others were destroyed in mid-air collision during Monday's dog-

Steel for erection of bridges on the Pennsylvania turnpike in Lawrence county is being delivered at the present time, it is reported to Pa Newc. The structures will be overhead bridges which will span existing roads in the county which will have to be crossed by the turnpike. Work of erecting these concrete bridges should start very soon.

Signs of life are being observed at Cascade Park as workmen prepare to get the popular amusement and beauty spot ready for next summer's activities. Some building repair work and general rearrangements will be necessary before the opening day which is on Memorial Day.

Workmen have begun to stir around the site of the addition to the Legion Home on North Jefferson street, it was noted Monday by Pa Newc. The job lay dormant during the winter months due to various reasons and now it is hoped that the modern structure will rise rapidly above the ground.

Motorists will appreciate the proposed traffic light, a four-way signal, which will be erected at the junction of the Perry Highway and the Slippery Rock road, at Harlansburg. It is to be put up by City Electrician Rex Hughes, and his assistant. For years the traveling public has been confused. Deaths and injuries have grown out of motor accidents there. The signal has not yet arrived here, according to Hughes.

PIANS TO CALL FOR PROBE OF ETHICS

jury is pursuing its investigation of possible perjury in testimony already heard.

Court aides revealed that "a lot of subpoenas" are ready for issuance, but they refused to say who would be called or when.

Today's witness before the grand jury was to be Stuart Bingham, an official of the RFC's loan office, who will tell about the agency's loan-granting procedures.

Fulbright said that his present plan is to urge congress to set up a "governmental ethics" commission, similar to the Hoover commission on reorganization of the government.

The senator said that such a group, composed of men from congress, other branches of the government and civilian life, could do a "thorough and impartial job" of examining the ethical conduct of officials of all government departments and agencies, including congress.

the issuance of this order. It will be the subject of a conference Wednesday between DiSalle and about 30 industrialists representing everything from nylons to lumber.

On the labor front, economic stabilizer Johnston is reported to have practically agreed with labor on a plan whereby union members would go back to the disrupted wage stabilization board.

The whole effort is represented by labor sources, however, as having hit a snag as a result of the refusal of management representatives to accept a provision whereby the wage would handle both wage stabilization matters and labor disputes.

Industry representatives insist that the wage stabilization board should be confined to wage stabilization. Labor wants it broadened to handle union shop, seniority and other disputes, pointing to the old war labor board as a precedent.

Moves Against Inflation

On the financial front, the Federal Reserve Board moved against inflation by asking banks to tighten up on loans for non-defense purposes. In addition, the board is considering a presidential query as to whether loans can be held to those necessary for defense purposes.

DiSalle's food orders may be ready in a couple of days, but the OPS wants to hold up making them public until they are distributed around the country. The three regulations would:

1. Attempt to roll back to the pre-Korea level mark-ups over cost of the nation's chain food stores.
2. Do the same for the independent grocers.
3. Provide similar requirements for wholesalers.

The regulations will apply only to manufactured and other processed foods, including canned goods, packaged and frozen foods and cured meats.

Two Teen-Age Girls Perish In Home Fire In Philadelphia

PHILADELPHIA, March 13.—(INS)—Two teen-age sisters perished in a fire that destroyed their North Philadelphia home today with their dying screams heard over the crackling roar of the flames.

On the sidewalk, their critically injured mother sobbed hysterically, "My God, get the kids." But they were trapped in their bedroom by the inferno.

The fatal victims were Lois Himeback, 17, and her 14-year-old sister, Geraldine Lou. Watersprayed firemen groped through smoke and flames to carry out their bodies, but the girls were pronounced dead on arrival at a hospital.

Also taken to the hospital were their father, William, 44, who fell unconscious after dropping his wife from their bedroom window into the arms of three men below, the wife, Edith, 40, and Harry Weldele, 71, who occupied the first floor of the house.

COMPLETE SALE OF DOWNTOWN SITE of the property upon which the church building stood for nearly a century.

Power company officials are reported to have plans for ultimate erection on the site which measures 180 feet in length and 53 feet in width at the rear. At present the land is being used as a parking site. The church which formerly rested on the site was destroyed by fire two years ago.

Erecting New Church

Meanwhile good progress is being made by the contractor who is erecting the new church for the Central Presbyterian congregation on the Wilmington road in Neshannock township. Mr. Donaldson reported. Now that better weather is being experienced, work will be speeded up on the edifice. At present, the walls of the building have risen approximately six feet from the ground.

The church briefly celebrated its centennial anniversary several weeks ago and upon completion of the new house of worship later this year, a longer and more impressive celebration is planned by the congregation.

The sale of the property to the Power company ends a historic period for the Central congregation in the downtown section. The remaining semblance of a church at the downtown site, is the old church front and tower which was the center of many church and civic activities during its long and proud history.

When 30 of the pupils had been evacuated, it was discovered that Watson was missing. Walter Grant, of New York City, ran back into the building and dragged Watson from a bathtub where he had collapsed face-down.

Officials of the school, operated by the Seventh Day Adventist church, said the gas escaped when a nine-inch flue from the cellar furnace collapsed.

TRUMAN FACES DEFEAT ON SIZE OF ARMY

Chairman Vinson (D) Ga. As it entered its second day of closed-door deliberations, it had approved inductions at age eighteen and one-half, 26 months' service, UMT, and drafting of more 4-F's.

Still to be acted upon were provisions giving Congress a 60-day veto power over inauguration of UMT, deferment of up to 210,000 reserve officer training students, deferment of other students (but not necessarily 75,000 as approved by the Senate) and a three-year termination date for the draft.

The Senate bill establishes a permanent selective service system which would be turned into a training program whenever the world situation permitted. The House bill would terminate the draft on July 1, 1954.

Vinson said he hoped his committee will take a final vote today on the bill. However, with only half the measure completed yesterday, it appeared likely that the bill will not be reported out until Wednesday.

The Georgia Democrat hopes to obtain final congressional action on the legislation before the Easter recess begins March 22.

Following House action, Senate and House conferees will whip the legislation into final shape.

Singer Ginny Simms Has Second Divorce From Hyatt R. Dehn

(INS)—Singer Ginny Simms had her second divorce today from Hyatt R. Dehn.

The songstress was awarded an uncontested decree in Santa Monica superior court yesterday on testimony that the industrial engineer "criticized my every effort, without reason, in front of others."

She said she had "tried very hard" to make a go of their marriage after their reconciliation following the first divorce a year ago.

Miss Simms was given custody of the couple's two children, David, 5, and Conrad, 1. Dehn agreed to pay $200 a month child support plus alimony of $200 a month for ten years.

The couple are to be married on March 22.

NOTHING IS UNIMPORTANT

An unvarying rule of our organization is that no slightest detail—no wish expressed—is neglected. We know from the experience of others that the "little things" are important. We take care of the essentials—the things that must be done, and let our clients tell us what more can be added.

That is why we call ourselves a professional service organization, not a business.

M. DEL CASTELLO, S. R. LOCKLEY WED

Quiet but impressive was the wedding ceremony which united in marriage Miss Margherita (Dolly) Del Castello, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Fausto Del Castello, of 510 Florence avenue, and Corporal Sidney R. Lockley, son of Mr. and Mrs. Sidney L. Lockley of 13 East Lincoln avenue.

Attended by friends and relatives the ceremony was performed in the First Methodist church, Saturday, March 10, at 11:30 a. m. The double ring ceremony was performed by Rev. A. C. Schultz. During the wedding, the selections, "I Love You Truly," "Because" and "The Lord's Prayer," were heard.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride was lovely in a white slipper satin gown with Queen Anne collar, fitted bodice and long sleeves tapering at the wrists. The gown's peplum of dainty lace ended in a Cathedral train. Her fingertip veil fell from a skull cap of lace edged in satin, and she carried a bouquet of white roses and snapdragons.

Miss Edwina Burton, classmate of the bride, as maid of honor wore a white organdy gown with yellow accessories and mits. Bridesmaids, Alberta Drake, Joan Donaldson, also classmates, and Darlene Lockley, the latter sister of the bridegroom, wore gowns of white organdy with matching accessories and mits of pastel shades. They carried bouquets of roses, gladiolas, snapdragons and lilies.

Wendell Butler served the bridegroom as best man. Ushers were Paul Robb, George Jackson and Wayne Gray, all are college friends of the bridegroom.

A congratulatory period followed the ceremony. A wedding dinner was served immediately after at an inn on Croton avenue to guests numbering 100.

Mr. and Mrs. Lockley departed afterwards on a brief motor wedding trip. Mrs. Lockley is at present a student nurse at the Janeson Memorial Hospital School of Nursing and will be graduated with the nursing class of '51. She was graduated June '48 from the New Castle Senior High school.

ARMS RACE AND WAR

When Stalin says one thing and his subordinates do another, there is only one safe conclusion. It seems to be standard Russian practice for a Stalin statement hinting at peace to be followed by official actions that are uncompromising and hostile. In such cases actions speak louder than words.

Last month, for instance, Stalin said that the Soviet budget proves Russia's desire for peace. No nation, he said, can strengthen its civilian economy and simultaneously "inflate war industry and multiply its armed forces without risking bankruptcy." Russia, he said, was strengthening in civilian economy.

Now Finance Minister Zverev announces that Russia is increasing its expenditures for its armed forces by 20 per cent to a peacetime record figure of 96,000,000,000 rubles—equivalent to $24,000,000,000 at the official rate of exchange. This new budget, Zverev insists, is further proof of Stalin's claim that the Soviet wants peace!

Exact comparison of American and Russian figures is difficult. A year ago, for instance, the reported dollar figures for the U.S. and Russian military budgets were approximately equal, although Russia was supporting an immensely more powerful military establishment. Russian military costs were much lower because of such factors as forced labor, lower military pay, fewer "luxuries" for the armed forces, lower official prices for materials, and others.

The U.S. military budget now is higher than the Russian military budget, but it will buy much less in preparedness.

But both budgets are increasing as the armed race continues. Arms races, it is widely believed, always lead to war. If there is any truth in that statement, it derives from the fact that the weaker side got into the race too late to upset the aggressor's plans. It may be nearer to the truth to say that wars start when one side thinks it can win an easy victory.

EFFECT OF TWO WARS

The Census Bureau reports that for the first time in American history the 1950 enumeration shows more women than men in the U.S. The accumulative manpower losses of two world wars in a single generation are reflected in a consistent increase in the percentage of females in the total population since 1920.

For every 1,000 females today there are but 981 males. The 1940 census showed 1,007 males for every 1,000 females. The normal balance of all populations in all parts of the world and all ages of history shows a slight preponderance of males. When this normal balance is disturbed over a long period by abnormal death rates in wars or natural calamities, gave social complications ensue.

Nature normally tends to keep the population in approximate balance. The birth rate is much higher for males than for females; but this unbalance is generally off-set in part by a shorter life span for the average male.

Hence, one war per generation does not upset Nature's balance. But two wars—or perhaps three—in a single generation tend to establish the numerical superiority of the female—a change which affects every facet of social organization, be it politics and government, economics, education, arts, fashions, and the forms of entertainment and recreation.

To date the disequilibrium in the U.S. population is relatively insignificant. It probably would be righted in one decade of peace. If it is not, however, it will influence profound changes in the whole pattern of American life.

THOROUGH PROBE NEEDED

Although the RFC hearings are far from complete, the Senate subcommittee holding them has already asked the Department of Justice to study the question of bringing criminal charges of perjury and tax evasion against some of the witnesses. A grand jury has started to delve into the mess.

That there has been plenty of plain and fancy lying on the stand admits of no argument whatever. That some of the income received from shady transactions was never reported to the treasury is at least a possibility.

Apparently it is only through prosecution for perjury and tax evasion that the man concerned in this smelly mess can be punished. But there is little doubt that improper uses of official power and the taxpayers' money are involved.

Nor can it be contended that the directors of the RFC were simple-minded men who innocently let themselves be led astray. They knew what they were doing and why and were willing to go along. On that point the sworn testimony of Walter L. Dunham, one of the directors, provides all the evidence that is needed.

Mr. Dunham was asked, he said, to resign from the board and to "take the rap" for its sins. Although in poor health and eager to quit, Mr. Dunham decided to see it through. His testimony makes it imperative that the inquiry continue. There must be no whitewash in the form of a few indictments for perjury.

A Senate committee is trying to ascertain what caused Senator Tydings' defeat in Maryland last November. Has it occurred to the committee that it may have been the fact he didn't get enough votes?

The price for which that famous letter President Truman wrote to that music critic has been sold was not revealed. Too bad—we'd like to know how much Harry rates per word as an author.

In View Of News Of The World

Could Alter Parley Picture

A surprise development that conceivably could alter the whole picture of big four negotiations is the chief subject of speculation in the capitals of the world today.

Deputies of the Western powers meeting in Paris with Soviet Russia in an attempt to frame an agenda for a new, formal international big four conference agreed to include the German problem in the first item listed for discussion.

This was Russia's initial stipulation in calling for the big four meeting—an event that Moscow obviously is extremely anxious to bring about.

Clearly A Compromise
The Western counter-proposal appears to have taken Soviet Deputy Foreign Minister Andrei Gromyko by surprise.

It was clearly a compromise. It emphasized that the principle purpose of a big four conference would be to compose the dangerous difference between East and West and conceded that the question of German armed strength—in proper perspective with regard to armaments in general—is of prime importance to Europe, to the world, and to peace.

Gromyko's only recourse was to fall back upon the Communist contention that the proper thing to do is to prohibit any German rearmament, withdraw all occupation forces and—although he did not use these words—allow the country to sink itself in the political "Red Sea."

The compromise suggestion, as anticipated, was put forward by Alexandre Parodi, a permanent fixture of the French foreign office.

Represents France
This brilliant diplomat was delegated to represent France at the big four conference by former premier Rene Plevin.

The latter doubtless knew that he was going to be forced out of office because of a dispute in the National Assembly on a government bill for electoral reforms. Plevin selected a virtually immovable foreign office expert to sit in on the meetings and exercise the traditional role of France as mediator among embattled diplomats.

In the opinion of Paris observers at the moment, the Western concession was a shrewd move.

By agreeing to place the question of German arms on the first item of the agenda program, the U. S., Great Britain and France acknowledged the importance of Germany in the whole tapestry of post-war problems.

But Parodi's wording was ingenious, inasmuch as the mention of German arms on the first item of the agenda program, the U. S., Great Britain and France acknowledged the importance of Germany in the whole tapestry of post-war problems.

The Parent Problem

By Garry C. Myers, Ph. D.

SIMPLE PLAYTHING FOR TOT

Blessed is the child who at home is always making things for his friends. He has three, 10 or 16. The tools he needs don't cost much money and most of his materials can come from the waste basket or scrap heap.

A pile of box of sand is wonderful for the early years and the tools he will need are all about the house: spoons, pans, trowel, funnel, colander, rolling pin, pudding molds, small pails, discarded cardboard boxes and the like.

Hours of Fun

Large crayons, discarded wrapping paper, regular manila paper, backs of wallpaper samples and "unprinted news" can afford him hours of creative fun. Soon he can paint with his fingers or on the floor or on a large sheet spread on the floor or on a table or against an easel. And he likes to cut out pictures from old newspapers and magazines even before he is three. In doing so he grows in hand-eye co-ordination and learns to follow shapes and lines. He finds or chooses to make for himself. He may like to cut out an animal or man or some object from a blank piece of paper or tear out such objects from soft paper. What he cuts out he may like to fasten in a scrapbook or a big sheet of cardboard with paste. With a bit of guidance and stimulation he enjoys folding paper to make all sorts of things.

Also from discarded cereal boxes he likes to make more and more toys as he can manage tools better and better, especially after the age of four or five. Don't throw away cardboard boxes. Even the tot under two likes to handle them, put things into and out of them, stack them and the like.

For Young Child

The average waste basket is full of treasures for the young child. Many attractive advertisements have big possibilities for decorating a room or furnishing a doll's house. Large envelopes are wonderful as storage places for paper dolls or sets of cards or pictures. Even the colored handbills left at the door make good dresses for paper dolls or sails for toy boats. Old magazines with colored pictures to cut out or dull pages on which to paste other pictures are rich resources for the youngster. So are old newspapers and wrapping paper and paper bags. The larger bags make good masks; faces of clown, bear or Indian. A fascinating doll may be made from a paper bag and crumpled paper and some bits of string. Don't throw away wrapping cord. Very early the tot wraps things crudely or fastens together his wheel toys or drags all sorts of things around. Nor are elastic bands, paper clips, mailing tubes and the like things to be tossed aside, but are to be kept for the child's creative use.

Wonderful when the child under four or five has hammer and nails and portions of wood to saw and a vise to hold it fast. Quite as important as proper tools and materials in the hands of the young child is a pair of parents who appreciate him as a person and what he creates.

Germany was subordinated to two other factors:

First, the necessity for establishing a framework of peaceful cooperation between East and West.

Second, the question of European armaments as a whole, an implied reiteration of the known fact that Soviet Russia and its satellites are armed to the hilt while the West is still working on legislation and blueprints.

Difficult Adversary

Thus far, Gromyko has found a difficult adversary in Dr. Philip C. Jessup, the United States delegate, whose profound knowledge of international law and tremendous historical background have combined to put the Russian very much on his toes.

Jessup recalled the long-standing Soviet proposal that all the powers of the world proceed immediately with a one-third reduction of existing armaments.

He then cited a hypothetical precedent. Would the countries of Europe, he asked, have felt secure in disarming in 1939 if Adolf Hitler proposed a one-third reduction when all the world knew he had placed Nazi Germany on the most heavily militarized basis of any nation in history?

Gromyko Had No Answer

To this, of course, Gromyko had no answer.

Yugoslavia claims it was mere coincidence that Marshal Tito issued his white paper accusing Russia of mobilizing the satellite states for potential aggression, at a moment when the deputies were in session.

London reports of vast Russian and satellite military maneuvers this spring may be extraneous as well.

But conditions have developed by accident or otherwise to give the Western powers—for the present at least—a powerful hand in bargaining. Russia's next move may supply the essential test of Soviet sincerity, if there is any.

WEDDING THOUGHT

I hear them at the altar vow
For worse or better, weal or woe,
And think: "All they are pledging
Will take them many years to know."

"Tis well they seem so unaware
Of all the coming days may hold—
The trials they may have to bear,
And never let their love grow cold."

"This is their happy wedding day,
When all is rapture and delight,
And sorrow still is far away,
And there is not a cloud in sight."

I pray they'll still be hand in hand
When time reveals what's hidden now,
And they have come to understand
The meaning of the marriage vow.

Now the past few days have been dandies . . . sun to give some warmth . . . cool breeze to make walking interesting . . . and the combination dries up the moisture from the roads and streets. Dirt streets are full of holes . . . paved streets are dusty, and full of holes. The holes on paved streets can't be patched at this time . . . and the dirt streets can't be smoothed out for lack of proper machinery. We can see no reason why the downtown streets can't be swept. Hard on the nose and eyes . . . not to say anything of the clothing on peoples backs and merchandise in stores.

We sympathize with Councilman Gene and Street Commissioner Joe . . . but really fellows can't find a method of putting some crows on the main downtown streets and sweep up the ashes and limestone that is being shoved around by auto and truck tires?

A big rain will come along one of those days and all this loose stuff will be floated right into the storm sewers and it will be one heck of a job cleaning them out . . . No, we are not telling you how to run your department . . . we know that you have some mighty good ideas but right now action is needed.

Joe Medure . . . councilman in charge of city parks is finding much to do and plan for right now. Getting the various city projects lined up . . . with a limited budget . . . is no small chore. Cascade park is always a big job . . . so much work to be done after the snows. Roads washed out, trees fallen over . . . and buildings needing painted. Joe would like some day to see the midway paved with blacktop but that seems out of the question when so many streets need the stuff.

It's easy to sit back and criticize . . . but it's also true that once a plan is well laid out . . . things do begin to happen. Personally, we have high hopes for the city this coming spring and summer seasons.

Athens Observations

(By HENRY McLEMORE)

ATHENS, March 13.—Much of the talk over the coffee cups of the outdoor cafes here still centers about Costas Kephallanias.

As the readers of front pages everywhere know, Costas is the dashing, moustachioed Cretan who abducted the love of his life, Tassoula Petracozeorgis, and there came close to bringing civil war to the island of Crete.

Costas is in jail now, starting a two-year sentence, and almost everyone agrees that he was "railroaded," and that such a proved "palikari" shouldn't have been treated in such a manner.

To be a "palikari" means everything to a man in Crete. I have learned since getting here. The word has no counterpart in English. A palikari is tough, without being a bully. He carries a chip as big as an epaulette on his shoulder, but doesn't dare you to knock it off. Heaven help you, however, if you do.

A palikari must have a dash of the cavalier in him, and the romantic streak in him must be as wide as the yellow streak isn't.

In Crete, Costas is known as palikari No. 1. He comes from Anghogia, at the foot of Mt. Ida (legendary home of Zeus), the toughest town in Crete, which means just about the toughest town in the world.

People who live along the rocky road that leads to Anghogia say they're glad that that town is at the very end of the road, otherwise they wouldn't be able to pass up and down the road without paying tribute to the hardbitten Anghogians.

Anghogia was the center of resistance in Crete in World War II and the Germans, after finding that a whole regiment couldn't keep the handful of palikaris under control, finally shelled it to the ground.

First Hidden In Cave
General Kreige, Nazi commander of Crete, who was kidnapped by the British see the book "I'll Met My Moonlight" was first hidden in a cave near Costas' hometown. Costas was a member of the kidnapping party, and it was to one of the caves where the general had been secreted that Costas later hid his beloved Tassoula.

The Greeks will give you any number of reasons to prove that Costas was "railroaded," the first being that he was originally charged with abducting the woman he loved.

"Ninety per cent of the married women on Crete were abducted by their husbands, and the other ten per cent say they were," Athenians will tell you. "No Cretan woman wants to admit that her husband wasn't enough of a palikari to take her off by force."

But what makes the Athenians laugh is the charge that Costas finally went to jail on, namely, carrying weapons and leading an armed band.

All Use Firearms
"I'd bet you," an Athenian told me, "that you'd be hard put to find any male in Crete over 12 years of age who doesn't have a gun, doesn't carry, and doesn't know how to use a firearm of some sort. Most of them start packing pistols around nine or ten, which they consider a good age to start beginning to be a palikari."

Another phase of Costas' trial which Athenians say made it tough on the fellow is that Tassoula's father (who hates the Kephallanias clan worse than poison) is an influential liberal, and the liberals are in power, not the populists, or royalists, to which party Costas and his family are loyal.

The feeling here is that the feud between the two families, which has been going on a long time, will really get into high now. Cretans don't kid about their feuds. Fifth cousins shoot it out with fifth cousins. The best man at a wedding becomes a member of the family with full feuding rights. So do godfathers.

From what I've heard about Crete I wouldn't be surprised if ushers and flower girls at weddings were included, too.

A New Skepticism

(By HOLMES ALEXANDER)

WASHINGTON, D. C., March 13.—The bell that is tolling for RFC may be tolling for a whole herd of Federalized sacred cows.

For the first time within convenient memory, there is serious discussion around town of dropping the ax, not only upon the lending and spending activities of favorite government agencies, but upon their very existence.

Thus the RFC investigation started out to examine the ethics of that agency, but has lead to a growing demand for its total abolition. To a lesser extent, but not without considerable force, several movements are marshalling for a crack-down on other agencies that have hitherto been regarded as untouchable.

Movement Got Impetus

The movement got its impetus last February 8th when Budget Director Lawton testified before the House Ways and Means Committee, a group which is trying to boil some fat off President Truman's bubby $71 billion budget. In his prepared statement Lawton made the well-known explanation that 83 per cent of the budget was based on firm commitments and was therefore "irreducible."

As far back as the memory of most reporters goes, this familiar statement has been accepted as solemn truth. But a new skepticism now seems to be developing, and the easy answer has not been accepted in the 82nd Congress. The feeling grows that a number of laws must be amended or repealed, and a number of old customs reexamined, if the Federal budget is ever to be brought back under the control of Congress.

Under the present law, for instance, the Veterans Administration has a budget which is 80 per cent "irreducible." Pensions, benefits, hospitalization and "services" have been promised to former servicemen and have to be paid for year by year. But it is now dawning on Congressmen that no law is unamendable; we have amended even the Constitution twenty-two times. The whole idea of limiting future promises is under review. Other "irreducible" programs which may be seriously looked over are the Federal farm subsidies, grants-in-aid, rural electrification and public works. No large slashes can be expected in the immediate future, but a new system of budget-making may be in the making, especially if some RFC-type scandals are uncovered.

Defense Department Scrutinized

Even the Defense Department, usually a sacrosanct agency in times of national emergency, is being scrutinized. Hearings on both sides of the Capitol have highlighted the Defense Department's wasteful use of manpower, now regarded as our most valuable national resource. Senator Byrd has notified Congress that the three services are hiring civilians at the rate of 4000 a day, in addition to asking for a no-limit draft for servicemen and universal military training. These military requests would be better received if Congress were assured—as is not the case—that the Defense Department is making the most of what it has in men and money. Byrd says that Secretary Marshall could readily save half a billion dollars by better use of civilian workers. A report by the Council of State Chambers of Commerce points out under a $60 billion budget, the Defense Department is actually doing business on a "stockpile" of $111 billion from various other sources.

Waste Of Manpower

Waste of manpower throughout the Federal system is the main source of Congressional skepticism about "irreducible" budget items. A recent House subcommittee study of Civil Service brought out some appalling figures on "featherbedding" practices. The Hoover Commission estimated that a good ratio of supervisors-to-workers is about 1 to 130. But the Federal Security Agency, a great favorite of the White House, has a ratio of 1 to 68. The Southwestern Power Administration seems to hold the record with a ratio of 1 to 28.

Congressional attention on these matters indicates a new awareness that the days of luxury and loose-living are coming to an end. We are entering an era of Spartan budgeteering. A number of the sacred cows, beginning with the badly-behaved RFC, may well be on their last legs.

Looking At Life

By ERICH BRANDEIS

Every now and then some disgruntled person says to me:

"Gee, I wish I were a columnist! It must be wonderful to be able to give h—l to someone or something you don't like."

Certainly it's wonderful, not only for columnists but for everybody else.

The easiest thing in the world is to raise h—l.

One of the most difficult things is NOT to do it. It—raising—is very often the sign of an inferiority complex.

The less sure a man feels of himself, the more he likes to compare himself favorably with those whom he derogates.

And when I say "man" I certainly do include his opposite sex.

Right now it is very fashionable to knock Harry Truman.

Many of my colleagues are doing it and certainly have done it. No doubt there are a lot of things to be said against Truman.

But aren't there a lot of things to be said against you and even more against me?

I could sit here right now and make all sorts of nasty cracks against the President. He certainly lays himself wide open to them.

And if I did, many of my readers would chuckle with glee and say "Isn't that fellow Brandeis clever!"

But if I say something nice about him nobody will pay much attention to it. "Who cares?" will be the comment, and on to the next page the reader will go to see whether there are any bargains in eggs or pig's knuckles today.

Yet, as a human being, Truman is a nice guy.

He is so gosh darn human that he has no business being President.

He is so much like one of us, like our grocer, our butcher, our local doctor, one can't imagine a marble statue of Harry Truman sitting on a prancing steed, holding a sword in his hand, wearing a cocked hat and a fancy uniform.

I doubt that there ever was a better family man in the White House, a more devoted father or husband.

It must be a lot of fun to play poker with Harry Truman or to listen to some of the smoking-room stories he can, undoubtedly tell very well.

If Harry Truman were a traveling salesman, I wouldn't mind having him for my traveling companion on a train all the way to California.

I bet he'd make a wonderful neighbor and would never say "No" if you wanted to borrow his lawnmower.

Please don't misunderstand me. All this has nothing to do with politics.

We have an awfully nice neighbor, too. But I'd never vote for him if he ran for President.

All I want to show is that you don't have to knock a fellow just because it's easy or popular.

Whenever I feel like pulling a person down I always think what he could say about me if he wanted to.

SYPHILIS AND POLITE SOCIETY

A few years ago syphilis was not mentioned in so-called polite society. The disease was disgraceful and the name was too.

Besides being disgraceful it was a calamity. With the best of available treatment it took years for a cure. Sometimes a cure was impossible.

Nowadays we have fine clinics and efficient treatment.

Blood tests are available everywhere.

If there is the slightest suspicion of exposure to syphilis a thorough check should be made right away.

Public Assistance Reports Decline

HARRISBURG, March 13—(INS)—The Department of Public Assistance reported today that 6,832 persons have been pruned from relief rolls during January and February.

An improved industrial standing, the DPA indicated, was responsible for the decline. The drop during the last half of February amounted to 2,098 persons, the DPA added.

The total relief burden embraced 327,523 persons at the end of January, lowest point in approximately two years. "This downturn is contrary to the normal movement during January and February," reported the DPA, "when the assistance rolls usually rise as a result of seasonal changes in employment."

"There seems to be little reason to doubt that as the weather improves and a period of normal decline in the assistance rolls is reached, a rate of drop much greater than that experienced thus far in 1951 will take place." The relief covered the following number of cases: general assistance, 54,568; old age assistance, 87,002; aid to dependent children, 166,735; and to disabled, 3,779, and blind pensions, 15,439.

Latin America Clearly Pictured At Woman's Club

Repeating a poem that had been written by her noted father, Robert Frost, Miss Lesley Frost displayed her vibrant personality as she was introduced by Mrs. Clarence Davis at the Woman's club meeting in the Highland United Presbyterian church on Monday.

Mrs. Wilbur Flannery, president, conducted the business session at 2 p. m., with four Spanish students of the New Castle senior high school as guests of the day.

Aside from being the daughter of the celebrated American poet, Miss Frost is an author, editor and lecturer in her own right. At the invitation of the U. S. State Department's Latin American cultural relations division, Miss Frost recently made a six-months trip to South America where she taught English and lectured on American literature in Caracas, Santiago de Chile, Bogota and Mexico City. These cultural centers bring Americans living in South American republics into closer contact with friendly, well-disposed natives.

Keep Relations
Commencing with her brilliant, interesting discussion, the gifted speaker stated, "There are two ways to keep the association open between South America and the United States, and these are through the cultural and economic methods. The business ties are kept alive more than the cultural and that is too bad, for peace can only be realized through the morals and culture of a nation."
"In Latin America," she stated, "adults are taught basic English at the institute, while literature is scarcely mentioned. This is a serious matter, as magazines and books of fiction do not reach the American libraries there. Instead they may be found in the home of the institute's head official."

Walking Into Trap
Continuing, she said, "there is too much discussion in Washington about the eighteen-year-old draft and troops to Europe and not enough about Latin America and its future. Stalin looked for the present stalemate in Korea and he hopes for the same thing in Europe... and we're walking right into his trap! We're becoming overladen with government in this country. A great man once said 'the less government the better' and how true when you look back to the success of the old town meetings of the colonies. Government today is like a great machine that comes through, makes a lot of noise, and picks up nothing!"

Miss Frost related several incidents which she witnessed that went a long way in impressing the Latin Americans with the wrong side of Americans. Woman's club members were astonished to hear some of the things that occur in official headquarters in other countries. "The American Cultural Institute is reluctant to give us the books that are needed yet here is an incident that shows how wrong Americans can be. American libraries in Spain were closed due to lack of funds and books, yet the British libraries were opening all over the country. Why? And on whose money? It was our own, through lend lease!"

Democracy Ideas
"The Latin Americans don't understand our type of democracy and we don't understand theirs. We believe in people having the opportunity to better themselves in life, while they think that democracy is the ability of all classes of people being able to get along with each other without rising above their present station in life."

In conclusion, Miss Frost stated, "if we interest young couples in making their homes in Latin American countries and 'live as the Romans do' then this understanding would wipe out all prejudices and barriers which exist between the countries." Miss Frost's discussion left a great impression on the Woman's club members as they reluctantly heard her close her talk.
Hostesses for the day were Mrs. W. G. Morgan, Mrs. G. T. Roberts, Mrs. Frank Smith and Mrs. Harold Sampson.

SFA Lodge Members Have Tureen Dinner

Members and friends of the S.F.A. lodge enjoyed a tureen dinner Saturday evening at 6:30 o'clock in the Malta hall.

The tables were beautifully decorated with spring flowers and candles. Anna McKee gave the invocation. Following the dinner, Anna McKee, the chairman, presented a lovely gift to two faithful members, Mr. and Mrs. Kelt Phillips, as they celebrated their 41st wedding anniversary, March 7.

The rest of the evening was spent in listening to music and interesting talks from some of the people who had just returned from California and Florida. The visitors of the evening were Mrs. Harry Rankin, Mr. and Mrs. Lindstrom, Mr. and Mrs. Wallin, Mr. and Mrs. Dave Nelson.

Pennsylvania Power Company Report Shows Good Progress

Operating revenues of Pennsylvania Power Company amounted to $9,969,653 for 1950, according to the annual report to stockholders which has just been issued. The total was 8.8% above that for 1949. Operating expenses and taxes were $7,961,304, or 12.7% higher. The resulting net operating income was 2.2% less.

The principal item of increased cost was higher taxes amounting to $1,801,863, which were 21.4% more than in 1949. Eighteen cents of every dollar of gross revenue went to government, by far the largest proportion to the Federal government.

Sales in kilowatt hours were also at a new high, exceeding 600,000,000 for the first time. This was due to increased use of electricity by all classes of customers, resulting partly from a strong upturn in industrial activity, and partly from the widespread promotion of electricity-consuming devices and equipment.

EVENS UP
DETROIT — Toivo Hultkonen told the police officer who arrested him for drunken driving that he had just finished off 15 bottles of beer. In court the defendant changed his story, admitting to only five beers. The judge compromised at 10 beers and gave Hultkonen 10 days in jail to match the figure.

Biscuits enough to supply every person in the United States with two every day for a year would require 500 million pounds of baking powder.

Non-Professional Employees Of Jersey Hospital On Strike

CAMDEN, N. J., March 13 — (INS) — Non-professional service employees at the Cooper Hospital in Camden went on strike today to enforce demands for union recognition and bargaining rights.

The walkout, accompanied by picketing, was staged by Local 584, CIO-Hospital Service Employees, claiming 262 members among the hospital's 291 workers.

Thomas M. Farr, president of the hospital board, called the walkout "shocking" and said every effort would be made to run the institution on a normal basis.

Farr said volunteers of the institution's ladies auxiliary were carrying on duties of the striking workers, including powerhouse employees, elevator operators, kitchen help, maids and orderlies. There are nearly 400 patients in all. Anticipating the walkout, hospital staff physicians yesterday began examining for possible discharge all those "who safely can go home."

Ohio May Build Emergency Route At Turnpike End

An emergency measure, until the turnpike is authorized and completed in Ohio, the state of Ohio may build a nine-mile stretch of highway near Petersburg to handle the flow of traffic which will evacuate when the western end of the Pennsylvania turnpike is opened.

The new stretch of highway, if built, would link the Pennsylvania end of the turnpike at Petersburg, O., with route 224 south of Youngstown, O.

As the matter presently stands, the Pennsylvania turnpike will empty out onto a couple of narrow rural roads which would probably break down under the strain of an estimated 7,500 vehicles a day.

Barbershoppers Plan Jamboree

Saturday, April 7, Is Set As Date

Comes the spring and the birds begin to warble.

And right back of the birds, well say about even stephen, is the barbershop quartet.

Which brings us to the world shaking announcement that the local chapter of the Society for the Preservation and Encouragement of Barbershop Singing in America, Incorporated, will hold a "Harmony Jamboree" in the Cathedral Saturday night, April 7.

It has been a little time since the quartets were seen or heard in public, probably due to the heavy snows. But the word is out and the date is set and on April 7 there will be a flock of nationally known barbershoppers here competing for the honors.

In addition, the United Chorus will be heard and, confidentially, it looks like a night of harmony such as you haven't seen or heard since the last affairs of its kind.

School Pupils Visiting Library

Regular patrons of the Free Public Library have been startled by an orderly procession of youngsters filing through the reading rooms on a tour of the library, for recently pupils of the New Castle schools have been visiting the library.

Last week the sixth grade of Lincoln Garfield, taught by Miss Lillian Sarver and Mrs. Mary Eakin made a trip to the library. Instruction in library procedure was given by Miss Alice Sterling, the head librarian, while Mrs. Walter McKee, children's librarian, told a story and gave a talk on new books. After a visit to the history room a tour through the library completed the visit.

Sixth grade of Pollock school and the ninth grade of St. Mary's have made similar visits and all schools of the city are invited to do the same. Arrangements can be made by calling Miss Sterling at the library.

PERSONALS

Oscar Johnson of Franklin avenue, who has been confined in the Jameson Memorial hospital, has been discharged and will temporarily reside at the Smith nursing home on Lincoln avenue.

Mr. and Mrs. John P. Jones and family of Wellesley, Mass., are visiting with their parents, Rev.

and Mrs. T. J. Jones, 100 East Reynolds street, and Mr. and Mrs. Chauncey Davis of West Washington street, for a few days.

Dr. C. F. McDowell of 311 Fairfield avenue has returned after spending several weeks vacationing in Florida and the south.

Fall Cause Of Injury To Worker

Thurman T. Blake, aged 47 years, of Neshannock avenue, was admitted to the Jameson Memorial hospital at 2 a. m. this morning, suffering from injuries received in a fall at the plant of the United Engineering and Foundry Co.

Mr. Blake fell a distance of about six feet, alighting on a cement floor and injured his back and right elbow.

What makes a GOOD carpet

FIVE THINGS DETERMINE THE QUALITY OF A CARPET. AND ALL FIVE ARE EQUALLY IMPORTANT IN CHOOSING A GOOD CARPET

- 1. CLOSENESS OF WEAVE—The number of tufts in the carpet, both widthwise (called "pitch") and lengthwise (called "rows" or "wires"). Remember though: A luxury carpet can be made of yarn so thick as to make close weaving impossible.
- 2. HEIGHT OF PILE—gives luxury and added wear.
- 3. QUALITY OF YARN—determined by proper blending of carpet yarns for length, strength, resiliency and lustre.
- 4. PLY OF YARN—thickness and bulk are increased by twisting from two to four single strands of fiber together. Heavier ply adds to the luxury of the carpet.
- 5. CONSTRUCTION OF BACK—must be strong and well-made. Top yarns would break loose if the back gave way.

What MAKES are good carpets?

Look at this list! You know them all to be the foremost manufacturers in the business! When you shop at General Floors you're buying GOOD carpet!

- BIGELOW
- KARAGHEUSIAN
- MAGEE
- FIRTH

Rural Sections
No Dump SpotsCommissioners
To Clip Violators

Moral suasion and decent requests having failed, the county commissioners are now getting tough with garbage dumpers.

Monday morning the commissioners passed a resolution which authorizes police action against any person caught dumping garbage, rubbish or trash of any kind on roads, or properties in the rural sections.

One garbage dumper comes in from Ohio several times a week with garbage from Poland, Struthers and Campbell, O., and dumps it on scenic property in Slippery Rock township.

Under the state law prosecutions can result and the offender be forced to remove the garbage. This is going to be done.

Unfortunately some of the township constables are not disposed to take any action in the matter the commissioners have found while others as example, Shenango and Union keep a watch for such violators.

Farm land or scenic land owned in the rural sections is no place to dump garbage the commissioners feel. An owner of farm land has the same rights as the owner of a city property and the commissioners intend to see these rights are respected.

MONEY SAVED

For a time it was thought the March term of criminal court would be a busy place, with attending costs to the taxpayers. The pleas of 45 out of 46 true bills of indictment closed the March term in a hurry and will save hundreds of dollars.

Seven Hundred Girl Scouts In Rally In City

Nearly 700 Girl Scouts, including Brownies, intermedates and seniors, of New Castle Area, Inc., with their leaders, participated in a camp rally on March 10 in George Washington junior high school. This was the biggest event of its kind held in this area.

Troop No. 26, of which Miss Maxine Bigley is the leader, took part in the presentation of colors. Nancy Filbin, president of the junior planning board, welcomed the group. Remarks were made by the established camp chairman.

Group singing was enjoyed under the leadership of Miss Elise Ridley with Mrs. A. G. Snyder as accompanist. Later moving pictures and slides of the 1950 camping season at established and day camps were shown by Miss Alice Welther, assisted by Mrs. Russell Cartwright.

A noon bag lunch was enjoyed with a dessert and beverage being furnished by the committee. After lunch last year's campers and various troops presented short skits.

Skits Presented
"First Aid" was the theme of the one given by troop No. 63, of which Mrs. Clark Shumate is the leader, while "Cinderella" was given by troops No. 4 and 10, led by Mrs. David Evans, Mrs. Leroy Garver and Mrs. Frank Reed. A group of camp songs was sung by girls who were members of the Pioneer unit at last year's established camp.

Mrs. Everett Perkins and troop No. 5 showed the preparations necessary for an overnight camping experience. Brownies of troop No. 20 with Mrs. Patricia Boatman in charge dramatized a song, "Six Little Ducks". Mrs. John E. Porter and a group of Mahoningtown Scouts portrayed scenes from the progressive dinner staged at camp last season. Mrs. D. H. Locke and troop No. 56 portrayed swimming before and after camp training. The final act was a typical campfire scene, with girls grouped around the fire, singing songs.

The junior planning board, adult members of the camp committee and leaders of various troops assisted ably throughout the day. A Red Cross first aid station was maintained during the day, with Miss Edythe Martin, Mrs. William Joseph McCormick and Miss Marguerite Uhl in charge.

PHILADELPHIA, March 13.—(INS)—Dr. Russell E. Teague advocates a merit system for physicians and nurses to take the state health department "out of politics" and insure highest medical standards.

Pennsylvania's Secretary of Health made his suggestion at the dedication of a new nurses home at Woman's Medical College in Philadelphia yesterday.

Dr. Teague also urged the crea-

New Plan For City Pensions Is Proposed

Action Is Launched At Meeting Of City Council On Monday

Safety Director Richard I. Davis during council meeting Monday, in city hall, launched a move which, before it wound up, resulted in council adopting a motion put by Property Director Joseph F. Medure which instructed Solicitor Robert White to draft a new plan for pensions for city employees under existing state law. During the discussion Davis, Mayor Haven, Medure and Schweinsberg said they would not join the proposed system. Councilman Hoyland is in Florida.

Davis precipitated the discussion by offering a resolution stating, inasmuch as Lawrence county court had ruled the pension system of the city illegal, and had ordered dissolution of the fund, and in view of the fact that city employees do not have benefits such as industrial employees enjoy, he requested that city officials be sent to Harrisburg or Washington to investigate possibilities of a new pension system.

Davis said he favored a pension system that does not include elected officials.

Solicitor Robert White told Davis that no one had to go to Harrisburg or Washington.

Could Find Out

Davis said: "If they went they could find out if city employees could join social security, which they are out of."

Solicitor White said there is a Philadelphia expert who is cognizant with the situation.

"Let us get someone here. I want city employees protected," Davis stated.

"The only way you can obtain a pension system is under existing state law," Solicitor White informed Davis.

"Does it include city officials?" Davis asked.

"Yes," Solicitor White replied. Solicitor White added that Governor Fine must name a commission to enter into negotiations with the federal government, which if successfully arrived at, would designate a date at which city employees could join social security.

Councilman Medure entered the discussion, stating: "Social security will not benefit city employees." Solicitor White and Councilman Medure then chorused:

Conform To Court Opinion

"Let us make it (the pension system) conform to the opinion of court."

Medure added: "I do not want any part of the pension system. I am willing to sign an affidavit to that effect. However, I believe something should be done for city employees."

"I am in favor of a pension plan for employees but first want to know whether or not the city employees are going to appeal the decision of Lawrence county court."

Davis remarked that "I do not think the higher court will overrule the judges' decision."

Medure stated that he understood it was ruled illegal because three members of council who had long service were interested parties. This, he explained, did not apply to Mayor Haven or ex-Councilman Gibson.

Solicitor White argued that he believes the best plan is to revamp the pension ordinance to comply with the court's desire. He said the fund, which is to be dissolved, would not have to be dissolved immediately if an appeal were taken. He said that any pension plan arranged must be in accordance with state law. He argued the best pension plan would be a state-wide system for municipal employees.

Favor Pension Plan

Mayor Haven said: "I am in favor of a pension plan for employees, but I am not joining it, and I am not signing any affidavit to that effect. I have received enough ridicule, and I do not want any part of the pension system. If you (council colleagues and Solicitor White) want to draw up a new pension plan and we (council) remain out of it, I am in favor of it. I did not need a pension when the bill was passed, and I do not need one now."

He added: "I believe a pension is a good thing for city employees to look forward to."

Medure then offered a motion that Solicitor White draft a new pension plan, following which Councilman Davis withdrew his motion, and Medure's motion passed.

The new plan, under state law, calls for pensions for both employees and officials, but Solicitor White explained that no one could cause an official to vacate his office if he refused to join, after which the mayor explained:

"I want no 'grab'. The 'pension plan' I have had for years will do me," the mayor concluded.

"Is there any reason to do this until we ascertain what the employees intend to do about an appeal?" Schweinsberg asked.

It was pointed out March 28 is the last date for an appeal.

Medure said he understood no official can join the system until after he is re-elected to office.

Solicitor White told Medure there are other pension plans which have been upheld where elected officials voted in favor of pensions.

Medure again asked that the plan be prepared. Schweinsberg wanted to know if it were advisable until employees decided whether to take an appeal and Davis ended the discussion by stating: "I am voting for the plan, but I am not joining it."

News Briefs From City Hall

Council decided at the meeting Monday to inform county commissioners they could "borrow" City Electrician Rex Hughes and his assistant, who will put up a four-way traffic light at the junction of Route 19 and 108, at Harlansburg. He will have the status of a county employee, and be protected by insurance.

Polish Embassy To Protest Barring Of Polish Ship

WASHINGTON, March 13. — (INS)—The Polish Embassy apparently plans soon to protest the barring of the Polish ship Batory from the Port of New York by municipal authorities.

It was learned today that a representative of the Embassy has called the State department to inquire into the effect of the New York City ruling, which held that the Batory is too great a security risk to be allowed to enter the port.

The Batory is about the only passenger liner sailing directly between the United States and the iron curtain countries. It is owned by the Gdynia American Line, now operated by the Communist Polish government.

The New York City ruling applies only to municipal works but it is expected to discourage any private pier owners from giving space to the Batory.

Gerhart Eisler, top U.S. Communist, escaped from this country on the vessel in May, 1949, jumping a bail of $23,000 put up for him pending an appeal from his conviction of passport frauds.

Since then, the ship has been searched carefully on every arrival and the crew has not been allowed ashore.

His auto was damaged. Benick was arrested by Policemen Rozzi and Birt on a charge of operating a car while intoxicated.

According to the cruiser policemen's report to police headquarters, Benick was driving west in Mahoning avenue at the time of the accident.

The police saw him talking to a trainman at the crossing and later took him to headquarters.

Probe Being Made Into Sale Of H-Bomb Plant Site In South

WASHINGTON, March 13. — (INS)—The FBI is looking today into the sale of land at the new South Carolina site for an H-bomb plant.

FBI investigation was revealed by Atomic Energy Commission chairman Gordon Dean, who asked the probe after one employee admitted tipping off an outsider who made a quick $75,000 profit on South Carolina land he purchased just before the AEC bought it.

Dean said the employee, W. Conrad McKelvey, resigned after admitting he advised Walter V. Pace, a Salt Lake City grocer, to buy land at the plant site near Aiken, S. C.

Today's Fashion Flash

NEW YORK, March 13. — (INS)—The summer "duster"—a fabulous fashion that will spur women to wear coats in the warmest weather — is getting fancier and flossier.

New York designers keep coming up with new ways to make the duster exciting. The straight, loose coats originally appeared in simple cotton fabrics, but now they're being created in fluffy materials. With glamorous gimmicks.

Latest of the lightweight materials to be whipped into a duster coat is nylon net, in double thickness. Between the two layers of net may be pressed artificial flowers, beads, or other what-nots of dressy fashion.

To add to the femininity of more sporty dusters, designers are adding appliques in felt or colorful burlap, tiny artificial fruits dangling like fringe from collars, and borders of embroidery.

Reversible dusters are the most practical whim of them all. Many are now being manufactured with linen on one side and ultra-formal metallicized silk on the reverse.

Girl Is Held As Alleged Burglar

NEW YORK, March 13. — (INS)—A 21-year-old girl who police say preferred the role of night club patron to night club dancer was held today as the alleged burglar of 50 apartments.

Police said that when Catherine Johnson was seized breaking into an apartment she had a ten-inch railroad spike in her hand, a loaded pistol in her purse and an unloaded one in her pocket.

In her apartment they said they found some 100 keys and about $5,000 worth of stolen articles. Police added that the former dancer told them she spent her illicit income giving parties for friends at nightclubs.

State Court Rules Amish Must Attend School To Age Of 16

HARRISBURG, March 13. — (INS)—The State Superior Court Monday ruled that Amish children must attend school until the age of 16 despite a custom of the sect.

An opinion returned by Judge Claude T. Reno insisted that while religious liberty includes an absolute right to believe it carries "only a limited right to act."

The appellate court's decision sustained an opinion returned earlier by the Lancaster county court in a case involving two children of Samuel and Levi Beiler, of Gap, R.D.

The defendants announced that the rule will be appealed in the State Supreme Court.

The brothers had refused to send their children to school after the age of 14 in keeping with an Amish custom stemming from a decision by the Amish Council of Bishops.

Plan Additions To Plant At Kobuta

PITTSBURGH, March 13. — (INS)—Koppers Co., today announced a multi-million dollar expansion program for its chemical division, including construction of a new plant at Port Arthur, Tex., and additions to its present facilities at Kobuta, Pa.

The company said the expansion will enable Koppers to increase the production of styrene monomer by about 33 per cent and the manufacture of polystyrene by approximately 25 per cent. Styrene monomer is a essential to the synthetic rubber industry and polystyrene is a plastic.

The Texas plant will be on a 1,000-acre plot about two miles west of Port Arthur.

Evaluate Girl Scouting In New Castle Area

Mrs. Leotta Hawthorne, Region III community advisor, has completed an evaluation of Girl Scouting in the New Castle area. This was done with the aid of the local Girl Scout council, several members visiting the troops, 16 groups being visited. The groups included seven Brownie, seven intermediate and two senior troops.

Mrs. Hawthorne gave a report of her findings at the Girl Scout council meeting in the Girl Scout office, North Mercer street. Girl planning and managing, creativity in program, understanding and practicing of scouting and girl-leader relationship were the main points observed in the visitation.

Results of Evaluation
It was found that the girls are given a share in managing their troops and that experience in democratic living is prominent. The leaders, who are all volunteer, have a vital interest in the girls and their welfare.

There are 32 Brownie, 35 intermediate and seven senior troops in this area. There has been an increase of 56 per cent in scout registration in the past year. In badge work 613 were completed, mostly in the home-making arts and crafts, literature fields.

Experience in established camp was shown by 17 per cent of the scouts, while 25 per cent had experience in day camp, with 29 per cent being the average for the region.

One of the big factors in the progress of scouting has been the support given by the Community Chest. Without this support the many projects and the training of the youth of tomorrow would be hampered.

Try And Stop Me

By BENNETT CERF

Willard Price's Roving South from Rio Grande to Patagonia contains an episode that features Ezio Pinza, the man who single-handedly raised the average age of matinee idols by fifteen years. Pinza was staying in Rio when an impresario from Manaus, a city on the edge of the Amazon jungle, made him an unusual offer. He wanted Pinza to come there for a single concert, for which he was willing to pay double the customary fee, cash in advance.

When the baritone arrived at the Manaus airport, he was driven a considerable distance in a sleek limousine, then led from the car direct to a darkened stage. "We are ready for your performance," said the impresario. Pinza couldn't see his audience, but had a feeling it was large, and pulling for him. He sang as well as ever he had in his lifetime.

At the conclusion of the concert, he was led again through the darkness to his car, and driven to a hotel in Manaus. It was in the lobby there that Pinza learned for the first time that he had sung to one of the largest leper colonies in the Western hemisphere.

School Teachers Must Take Anti-Communist Oath Of Allegiance

TRENTON, N. J., March 13—(INS)—The New Jersey Supreme Court ruled Monday that public school teachers must take the anti-Communist oath of allegiance to the United States to qualify to teach in the state.

As a result, the high court sustained the dismissal March 9, 1950, of George B. Thorp, as a special lecturer in mechanical engineering at the Newark College of Engineering, a state financed institution.

Thorp declined to take the oath on the ground the law infringed upon the rights of private citizens as guaranteed by the federal and state constitutions.

Justice Harry Heher, in affirming the dismissal of Thorp, said the government has the inherent right of self-protection against the forces that would accomplish its overthrow by violence.

Streams Are Now Being Stocked With Trout In County

Pleasant, though cool weather of the past several days, has resulted in disciples of Isaac Walton, angling for suckers and catfish in local streams. However, fishermen should remember that from midnight March 14, until 5 a.m., April 15, fishing in all streams is prohibited, excepting ponds, lakes and streams not stocked with trout. Streams are now being stocked, trout having been put in the Slippery Rock creek this morning.

'Dream Home' Builder Is Sentenced As Wholesale Swindler

PITTSBURGH, March 13—(INS)—Raymond E. Reynolds, the 52-year-old ruthless swindler who stole $224,000 from 171 prospective home owners, was sentenced to a ten-year term in Allegheny county workhouse yesterday in Pittsburgh.

When passing sentence, criminal court Judge Henry Ellenbogen told Reynolds:

"You prayed on many just back from war and spent the money on wine, women and song."

Reynolds began building "dream homes" in the Pittsburgh district during 1947 and skipped town a year later. Reynolds, according to the district attorney's office, contracted to build 292 houses but completed only six.

The Empire State building is 1,250 feet high.

Things you'd like to know about your Railroad

THE CENTRAL IDEA A lift with your School Taxes

NEW YORK CENTRAL SYSTEM

1. A LOCOMOTIVE BELL sounds a lot like a school bell. And that's as it should be. Because your railroads, among them New York Central, are steady supporters of your schools. For instance, in New York Central states last year, New York Central paid school taxes of over $11,000,000!

3. ONLY RAILROADS in the transportation field give you this kind of a lift with school taxes, because only railroads are self-supporting. They build their own right of way... stations... yards. And remember... school taxes are only part of the taxes they pay on their property.

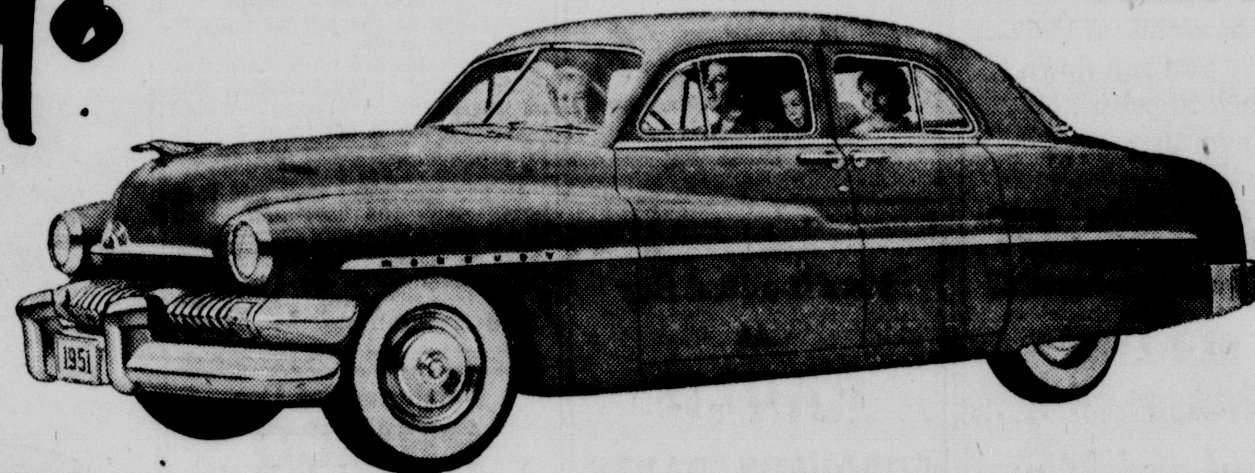

2. RAILROAD DOLLARS helped build and keep up many a fine district school. Helped pay many a teacher's salary. Helped to buy laboratory supplies or playground equipment. Helped many a youngster finish his training at state university or agricultural college.

4. SO NEXT TIME you watch all the solemn youngsters and their proud parents at Graduation... or the next time Tax Day rolls around... remember your Railroad! Paying taxes is one more way New York Central is a living part of your community. And that's the CENTRAL IDEA!

What a buy! Here's why—

City Mission Submits Two Months Report

If work accomplished by the City Rescue Mission for January and February is an criterion, the Mission staff will have an unusually active year during 1951. Rev. F. D. Marshall, superintendent, has submitted the progress report for the past eight weeks showing much accomplished during the period.

During the first two months of the year, 1041 men were housed in the Mission with 2,618 meals served during the period. Over 2,200 articles of clothing were dispensed to the indigent of the city and county. There were 59 evening meetings at the Mission, 40 prayer requests and eight pupils supplied by the superintendent.

Remodeling work which is in progress on the second floor, will provide an excellent dining room, kitchen and staff lodging when completed. Heretofore, all meals have been served on the third floor of the building but this work will be transferred to the second floor when the work is through.

Items Contributed

Several items for the new kitchen and dining room have been given through the generosity of church groups, including stainless steel sink, refrigerator, inlaid linoleum and other articles. The new dining room and kitchen will be very attractive.

The Mission's needs at this time, both materially and financially, are on the increase. Canned vegetables for soup stock are sorely needed. Much canned fruit is on hand but the need for vegetables is dire. Superintendent Marshall reports, Men's clothing is much in demand and with spring cleaning being started, perhaps some will be available which the Mission will be glad to call for.

Men are being recommended by the Mission for odd jobs. Credentials are given the men so that the employer will know that he is being sent out by the Mission. Calls for workmen will be filled immediately.

Need Religious Books

The Mission library is in need of discarded religious books which would be appreciated by the staff and transients who stop at the Mission. The superintendent announces that a truck is being obtained and regular calling days will be announced soon. At present, Wednesday is pick-up day and requests will be honored on that day by the staff.

Both Rev. and Mrs. Marshall are open for engagements whereby they can tell the public of the work being accomplished at the downtown center. The Mission superintendent and staff are presently cooperating in the Appelman campaign and only 630 services for the transients are being conducted during the progress of the series.

The Mission is open for public inspection at any time by any citizen who desires to view the Mission building and the work being accomplished there.

Mr. and Mrs. Sydney Campbell's home, a model of domestic happiness, until a cyclone struck in the form of "Pigtails" who, in spite of her hand but the need for vegetables is dire. Superintendent Marshall reports, Men's clothing is much in demand and with spring cleaning being started, perhaps some will be available which the Mission will be glad to call for.

Plan Blizzards For Defense Vs. Russia

WASHINGTON, March 13 — (INS)—A maginot line of Arctic blizzards was seen today as a possible defense in war with Russia. Sen. Anderson (D-N.M.), who opens hearings Wednesday on the problems that altering the nation's weather will create, said that making raging blizzards in the northland as a defense against Russian planes might be a possibility.

Likewise, Anderson said that a nation whose scientists know how to bring torrential rains in selected spots could upset completely an enemy's timetable in a motorized assault. The military phase of changing the weather by artificial means is so important to the military that the defense establishment canceled two days of closed-door testimony that it had scheduled. Anderson announced that the army was "not ready" to testify. But it was learned that the military men were hesitant about revealing what their scientists have learned about weather-making even in a secret committee session.

Highlights from our 1950 Annual Report

The annual report, just mailed to our stockholders and employees, describes another year of progress in our service to the people of this section of Pennsylvania. Contrasted with continuing increases in living costs and increases in wages paid to our employees, the price for our service was lower. And, reflecting the Company's satisfactory financial position, securities to finance the construction program were sold readily to investors.

If you would like a copy of the report, write or phone our general office in New Castle, or division offices in Greenville or Sharon.

Here are some of the highlights from the report:

RESIDENTIAL SALES UP

The average use of electricity per residential customer was 2,235 kilowatt-hours, compared with 2,044 in 1949. The increase equaled the greatest previous increase in the Company's history.

PRICE IS LOWER

Continuing its long-time downward trend, the average price of electricity to the Company's residential customers was 2.60 cents per kilowatt-hour, compared with 2.68 cents last year. The national average in 1950 was 2.88 cents.

TAXES 21.4% HIGHER

Taxes totaled $1,801,863, amounting to 18 cents of every dollar of gross revenue. This is in sharp contrast to the continuing tax exemption of governmentally-owned utility systems.

CONSTRUCTION

Construction expenditures amounted to $3,977,981. In addition to the new 85,000-kilowatt unit at the New Castle Power Plant, which will be completed in 1952, the program included important transmission and distribution projects.

WAGES INCREASED

Employees of the Company received a two-part wage increase, part effective in June and part in October. In addition, substantial improvements were made in the Company's pension plan.

FARM ELECTRIFICATION

The work of extending service into rural areas is almost complete, with over 96% of farms in the territory now being served. Fifty-six miles of rural line were built in 1950.

Umpires Set For Season

Organizational Meeting Monday

The Lawrence County Umpires Association held its 1951 organizational meeting last night at the Y.M.C.A. for the purpose of making final plans for the coming baseball season.

All members present were most enthusiastic for another successful season and are anxiously awaiting the moment of the old familiar cry of "Play Ball."

Affiliated With NBC
The association is again affiliated with the National Baseball Congress of Wichita, Kansas, which makes them eligible for all NBC tournament play in this section.

Working agreements are also being formulated with the various local leagues, including college, high school and American Legion leagues. Members are also offering their services to the newly created Little Big League teams.

All in all it augurs well for the continuance of good baseball in this locality.

MILLIE DONALDSON, local duckpin and tenpin star, teamed with Rosine Ellish of Duquesne, Pa., to set a new world record in doubles in the National Rubber Band Duckpin Association tournament held recently in McKees Rocks, Pa.

Mrs. Donaldson and Mrs. Ellish rolled a sparkling 1065 set which breaks the old tournament record of 1044 and sets the new world record.

The two ladies then went on to place second in all-events with 1497 pins each, losing out to Miss Evelyn Kennedy of Pittsburgh who won with 1499 pins.

Mrs. Donaldson also bowled with the Elite Cleaners team of Duquesne which placed sixth in team events. She led the team with a 520 set.

Millie, who just recently took up tenpins, and who won the head-pin tournament held here in December, is leading in averages in the big 16 team league at the Champion alleys in Youngstown, O.

Strizzi's basketball team which won the Junior title in the National division of the Recreation circuit, will dine on chicken and spaghetti Thursday evening at a Crotan restaurant, according to the ex-grid star, now a floor coach, Tippy Richards.

NBC Offers Chandler Job

Would Create New Position

WICHITA, Kans., March 13.—(INS)—A. B. (Happy) Chandler, whose baseball commissioner days are numbered, was offered a top-ranking job today—in sandlot baseball.

Raymond D. Dumont, president of the National Baseball Congress, announced in Wichita that his organization is ready to create a position for the rejected Chandler.

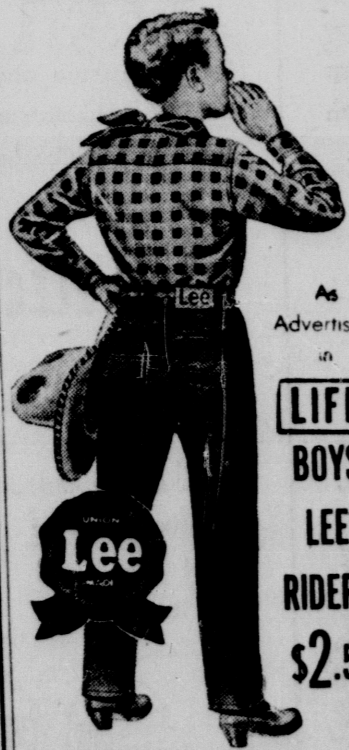

Promote Good Will
Dumont said the job—which is Chandler's for the asking—will include serving as good-will ambassador at tournaments in Japan, Alaska, Canada, South America and other countries where the NBC has affiliates.

The position also entails appearing at the opening of each of the 48 state championships in the U. S. during July and August.

Dumont said: "Chandler loves baseball and he sincerely had his heart in it—from the youngsters to the major leaguers. If he desires to remain in the game, we're ready to create the position for him."

Dumont added that the public is "solidly behind" Chandler in his fight to retain the baseball commissioner's post. He declared that Chandler "is even more popular today than ever."

Plans to construct a 20,000-seating capacity sports arena to "make New Orleans the basketball Capital of the South," was announced today.

Junior Tournament To Begin Monday

Sixth Annual YMCA Junior Tournament will begin Monday, March 19.

Dave Gatrall, YMCA program secretary, has announced that the deadline for entries is Friday, March 16, and that there are currently 12 teams entered.

Last year's tournament was considered highly successful and produced a winner in Morellas Dairy Bar.

Teams from Ellwood and Bessemer have already entered the tournament.

Four Games Will Be Played; Greyhounds Defending Champs

Seventh annual Tri-County basketball tournament will get underway tonight at the Westminster college gym with the first of four games scheduled to begin at 6:30. Union township and Evans City will open the tournament play, followed by New Wilmington-Zenonopolis at 7:30, Shenango-Mt. Jackson at 8:30 and East Brook-Bessemer at 9:30.

The lid-lifter between Evans City and Union matches two of the tournament favorites, The Big Red team from Butler county, followed by Butler county, followed by Butler county, followed by Butler county.

Union shares the tournament favorite position with Evans City and Bessemer by way of its fine play in Section 23 during the last half of the campaign. The Scotties moved into the league championship Wampus Indians in their final six section encounters.

Defending Champs
New Wilmington will begin defense of its tournament championship in the second game, with Zenonopolis providing the opposition. Coach Red Bender's Golden Bears have had their ups and downs this season as have Bob Eagleson's Greyhounds and the two teams appear to be evenly matched.

Anything could happen in the third game of the night when Mt. Jackson meets Shenango. In two previous encounters between the teams, each team won a decision.

In the night's finale, Bessemer will take on East Brook. The Eagles of East Brook have a better all-season mark than the Cementers, though Bessemer has a much better league record, which includes two wins over East Brook.

Winners and losers of tonight's contest will return to the college Thursday night for the section night of the tournament. Winners of tonight's games will play section night games Thursday, while the losers will play consolation games.

Two More NIT Games Tonight

Bonaventure-St. Louis Teams Eliminated

By JOHN BARRINGTON (U. S. Sports Writer)

NEW YORK, March 13.—Top-seeded St. John's and fourth-seeded Brigham Young filled one National Invitation Basketball Tournament semi-final bracket today, and four teams scrambled for the remaining pair of berths.

North Carolina State, champion of the Southern Conference and second-seeded in the NIT, plays Seton Hall in one of tonight's games at Madison Square Garden.

Third-seeded Arizona, border conference king, meets Dayton in the other contest.

Could Set Precedent
If North Carolina State and Arizona make the round of four, it will be the first time that a solid phalanx of favorites has gotten that far since the NIT was expanded to 12 teams.

Nobody could come any closer to missing the boat that St. John's did last night. The scrappy Red-men needed Big Zeke Zawoluk's twisting under-basket shot in the last four seconds to squeeze past St. Bonaventure, 60 to 58, after the Bonnies had failed to hold a 14-point lead.

Brigham Young had an easy time eliminating St. Louis, 75 to 58, catching the Billikens far below the impressive form they had shown in the first round against LaSalle.

Washington Signs 'Buddy' Chandler

WASHINGTON, March 13.—(INS)—Well, at least, there's one Chandler who's "happy" today. He is Edward T. "Buddy" Chandler, a 235-pound six-foot guard from Davison college, who was signed today by the Washington Redskins.

Holy Name Wins Two

Hillsville Holy Name basketball team picked up two wins last week, drubbing Micks 33-23, and edging the Moro brothers team from Campbell, O., 31-27.

Crilli and Romano were the Holy Name top scorers for the two games.

Name Don Black To West Penn All-Star Team

Former New Castle High Star Honored

Donnie Black has been selected to the West Penn Little Ten All-Star team through a balloting of the coaches conducted by the Post Gazette.

Black and Edinboro's Bob McVeigh were alloted individual distinction in the voting, garnering six, and seven of the nine coaches' choices. The remaining first squad choices were so closely grouped in the balloting that finally, ten members were elected to the first team or squad. Eventually, a second squad of ten, and an honorable mention team of 11 were chosen.

Leading Scorer
Don Black this season for the Slippery Rock Rockets, tallied 251 points for an average of 15 points a game. He scored 31 points against Edinboro in his best individual effort, and was handicapped in several games due to sickness.

The former New Castle star had led his high school section (III) in scoring with 144 points for the 1947 season and now, as a junior at the State Teacher's college has wound up high point man in both varsity years of play.

Remaining first squad members include: Bud MacIndoe, Allegheny; Cecil Willoughby, Clarion; Olen Hays, Indiana; Don Stemmerick, Clarion; Andy Timko, Gannon; Bob Kelly, Clarion; Dan Hill, Grove City; and Ed Haag, California.

Titans Tangle In Kansas City With Evansville
Westminster's Titans meet top-seeded Evansville, Indiana tonight at 11:30 in the second day of NAIB first round eliminations at Kansas City.

The Purple Raiders gained the number one advantage slot through their fine record (21-6) and their impressive wins over top-rated opponents, which include Dayton, Xavier, Eastern Kentucky, Western Kentucky, and Indiana State.

First round scores include: Regis 72, Central Oklahoma State 55; Memphis 76, Portland 74; Olatwa 73, Hillsdale, Mich., 58; Southwest Texas 70, Morehead 62; and Millikin 77, Eastern New Mexico 65.

Little Big League To Meet Thursday
Little Big League Baseball incorporation will meet Thursday night at 8 o'clock in the commissioners' office in the Court House, it is announced by Joseph Travers, president.

The charter for the league in New Castle has arrived and will be adopted at the meeting. It is necessary that as many directors as possible attend to further plans for the coming season.

Williams Has Elbow 'Misery'
SARASOTA, Fla., March 13.—(INS)—Ted Williams insisted today that he is still in doubt about the condition of his injured left elbow.

The high-priced Boston Red Sox slugger said: "I won't know for two weeks how my arm is going to act this year. I thought the aches were spring soreness but Sunday the elbow really hurt."

Williams has been undergoing a series of muscle-building exercises and Jack Fadden, Boston trainer, insists that the splinter will be ready by opening day.

Manager Steve O'Neill said Williams looks okay to him. "He's all right," O'Neill declared. "He can hit the ball as hard as he ever could."

But Williams added: "The elbow hurts when I hit. I haven't lost any power but the elbow hurts."

The big guy fractured his elbow in last July's all-star game and missed a great deal of the season after undergoing an operation.

Earle (Coachy) Neale claims he was ousted as captain of the Philadelphia Eagles because of a disagreement with team owners over coaching policies.

Chandler Ousted As Commissioner; Lausche And Trautman High On List

By JOHN R. HENRY (U. S. Sports Writer)

MIAMI BEACH, Fla., March 13.—Albert B. (Happy) Chandler ambled toward the showers and shadows today and Ohio's Gov. Frank Lausche seemed set to succeed him as commissioner of baseball.

Happy's spot in the sun as czar of the national pastime ended yesterday when the 16 major league club owners declined to give him a two-thirds majority vote of confidence. Seven opposed him.

Gov. Lausche appeared to have an inside track for the $65,000 a year job.

Others on the list of potential successors include FBI Chief J. Edgar Hoover, Judge Harold Medina, Security Chief W. Stuart Symington, James A. Farley and such baseball men as Ford Frick, president of the National league, and George Trautman, boss of the minor circuits.

Lausche Has Support
Lausche apparently already has the support of three clubs—Cleveland, Pittsburgh and Cincinnati. Informed sources reported, however, that some of the old timers prefer to break precedent by picking a man from the ranks of baseball rather than another "civilian" like Chandler and his predecessor, the late Kenesaw Mountain Landis.

Trautman seemed to be the logical choice if that view prevails. Frick said he is not seeking the post.

Ready To Resign
Chandler told newsmen that he "guessed" he would resign as soon as his successor is selected and ready to work. He will hold the job until then or, otherwise, until his contract expires on April 30, 1952.

The club owners set no date to pick another commissioner.

They simply instructed a "screening committee" assigned to nominate a new commissioner that it should take all the time necessary. The former Kentucky senator, meanwhile, did not bar himself from returning to Congress. There were reports he may be appointed to fill the vacancy caused last week by the death of Sen. Chapman (D., Ky.), and then seek the job in a special election.

In this connection, Chandler commented: "Wait till I get back home in the blue grass to ask me about that."

Secret Ballot
The vote in the three-and-a-half hour locked-door session yesterday was cast by secret ballot. News-men generally concluded, however, that the club owners who blackballed him were: Fred Saigh, St. Louis Cardinals; Del Webb, New York Yankees; Lou Perini, Boston Braves; Bob Carpenter, Philadelphia Phillies; Walter O'Malley, Brooklyn Dodgers; Bill Dewitt, St. Louis Browns and either Charles Comiskey, Chicago White Sox, or Tom Yawkey, Boston Red Sox.

Chandler was dismissed suddenly during the major leagues' winter meeting at St. Petersburg, Fla., but no formal charges were ever filed against him.

Fusari-Bratton Fight Tomorrow
Welter Title Will Be At Stake

By KEN OPSTEIN (U. S. Sports Writer)

CHICAGO, March 13.—The International Boxing Club's plan to pass off the Charley Fusari-Johnny Bratton fight as a welterweight championship bout met strong opposition today from boxing's board of judgement—the fans.

They intend to stay away from the 15-round match at the Chicago Stadium tomorrow night in droves. Attendance is expected to be only about 8,000, and the gate receipts no more than $50,000.

Bratton Favored
Fusari and Bratton each are to receive 27½ per cent of the net proceeds. But one of the boxers will have to post a $5,000 guarantee financial terms in the specified period—so there won't be much take home pay for the winner.

Both Fusari and Bratton ended their drills Monday. Fusari says he will weigh 146½ pounds and Bratton believes he will be one pound under the welterweight limit at 146.

Homestead Chicago support has made the 23-year-old Bratton a 2 to 1 favorite over the ex-milkman from Irvington, N.J.

Louis-Agramonte Bout Cancelled

DETROIT, March 13.—(INS)—The Joe Louis-Amelio Agramonte fight is off because the Brown Bomber is in bed today, victim of Detroit's current influenza epidemic.

Louis' personal physician, Dr. Robert Bennet, said the former world heavyweight champion will not be in condition to keep his March 28 commitment with the Cuban heavyweight even if he makes an unusually rapid recovery.

Dr. Bennet said the attack was "of a mild nature," but he added: "We can't afford to take any chances."

Avalon And Verona Will Play Tonight

DORMONT, Pa., March 13.—(INS)—Avalon and Verona high schools play at Dormont high school tonight to decide which shall meet Irwin for the WPIAL class B title.

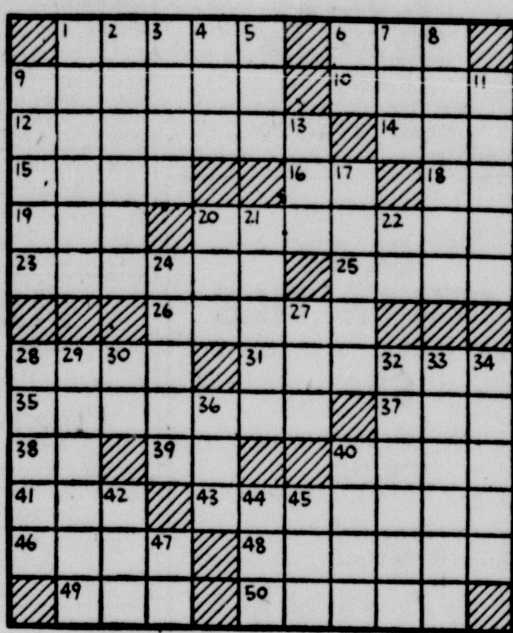

Irwin fought its way into the final round of the eliminations last night in McKeesport where the Knights beat Vernon 63-52.

Not all the athletic authorities want to abolish the freshman rule at this time since Congress has yet to decide whether it will draft 18-year-olds. But every official interviewed by International News Service believed that freshman will be playing on the varsity this fall.

Hope Of 'Quickie' Divorce Fading For Barbara Hutton

GUERNAVACA, Mexico, March 13.—(INS)—The Mexican judge before whom helpess Barbara Hutton appealed for a "quickie" divorce revealed today that his court has been loaded down with fan mail from both Mexico and the United States advising him how to decide the case.

As things stand now, it appears as though the wife of Lithuanian Prince Igor Trobetsky has lost out in her effort for a swift severance of ties from her fourth hubby.

Judge Alfonso Roqueni yesterday recognized Attorney Jose Gracia Montes de Oca as the legal representative of the prince in a contest against the divorce action.

Sources close to the judge indicated last weekend that in this event it would be a matter of years before a divorce could be obtained.

Israel Is Seeking Huge Amount In German Reparations

TEL AVIV, March 13.—(INS)—The state of Israel said today it has sent notes to the United States, Britain, France and Russia claiming one billion, 500 million dollars in reparations from Germany.

The large claim reportedly is based on the actual physical and material losses which Jews suffered in nazi-occupied Europe as well as the amount Israel spent in rehabilitating the victims of nazi persecution.

The separate notes asked the powers concerned to include the problem on the projected conference of the big four foreign ministers.

Charles Davis, extension poultry specialist of Penn State college will discuss the advantages of poultry culling, brooding of baby chicks, and spring management of the poultry farm.

The meeting has been arranged by the Lawrence County Agricultural Extension Association.

Seeks To Have Name Of Second New Castle In State Changed

F. J. Littell, head of the Littell Machine company, of Chicago, is a very much perturbed executive because there are two New Castles in Pennsylvania, one of which he opines is nearest Pittsburgh, and the other farthest from Pittsburgh.

In fact, Mr. Littell has had so much difficulty in conducting business with firms in both places, he had advocated in a letter to Governor John S. Fine, Mayor John F. Haven and councilmanic colleagues that the small New Castle be named "Truman" or "Eisenhower."

The other New Castle is located in Schuylkill county, according to Bell Telephone company attaches.

Americans spent more than four billion dollars for tobacco in 1948.
